You are instructed to immediately interview [redacted]. In addition to securing all details concerning the [redacted] attempt to recruit him, you should also ascertain from him whether subject indicated the military-type employment in Haiti would be directed for or against Haitian President Francois Duvalier. You should determine whether [redacted] agreed to accept the employment. You should also ascertain whether subject named any other individuals that he had approached or intended to approach. Signed statement should be secured from [redacted] if possible.

In addition to interviewing [redacted], you should ascertain whether the "Los Angeles Times" has any record of the identities of other persons who responded to ad placed by subject or, if not, whether it has a record of the number of responses to the ad. Sufficient inquiries should also be made to fully identify subject.
